

BAY ST. LOUIS

Advantage Title, LLC

Owner: Perre Cabell

Advantage Title LLC, a leader in the title and settlement services industry, has been operating in the old Post Office building on Main Street but many people aren't aware of its presence in the heart of Old Town. Attorney Perre Cabell founded Advantage Title LLC in May 2015 and today the company operates in 48 states, offering more than 75 years of experience in title insurance and title underwriting accumulated by its partners and lead management staff. Advantage Title LLC's values are centered on ethics, energy and excellence. Though it is national in scope, the company is locally staffed and community minded, supporting many local events and organizations.

Bay Pool Company

Owners: Adam and Whitney Landrum

Bay Pool Company has donated to numerous charities and causes throughout the community, along with being a donation spot for families in need. They support various organizations and athletics at local schools and also to leagues throughout the community. Bay Pool Company is a full service retail store serving local pool owners, and the professional staff can help customers put together the fiberglass pool of their dreams.

Creole Creamery/PJ's Coffee

Owner: Jim McPhaille

PJ's and Creole Creamery are side-by-side new additions to the Main Street mix of businesses in Old Town Bay St. Louis. The pair of investments by owner Jim McPhaille resulted in the hiring of more than 100 employees and is considered a boon to downtown by adding more options for visitors and locals. The clean, efficient modern facilities in the heart of downtown are easily accessible and pet-friendly as well as being ADA compliant.

Fassbender Insurance Agency

Owner: Bryan Fassbender

Fassbender Insurance Agency is a new business that works with families and businesses, providing home, auto, business, health and flood insurance coverage.

The agency is dedicated to providing fast, friendly service and also supporting community activities in the area. Fassbender has quickly become known for going the extra mile to provide top notch customer service and lend a hand to helping make the community better.

Renewing Touch Therapies and Spa

Owner: Rachel Bidwell

Rachel makes it a point to be involved in the community, whether it's through hurricane relief, school fundraisers or various other ways to help good causes. Rachel has been described as "big hearted" because she is always ready to step up and offer her time, energy and resources for others.

Customers of Renewing Touch Therapies benefit from her determination to make spa services in a welcoming setting readily available to all.

The French Potager

Owner: Martha Whitney Butler

At The French Potager, Martha Whitney Butler is well known for creating original floral arrangements using only the freshest of flowers for everything from a prom wrist corsage to large arrangements for any occasion. Customers have come to expect art and originality in all of Martha's arrangements. That creative talent is also on display in the Raw Oyster Marching Club, which she helped organize. This group of women quickly became a crowd favorite, and continues to show off their creativity in dance and dress at community parades and events throughout the year.

DIAMONDHEAD

Casano Law Firm

Owner: Michael Casano

The Casano Law Firm was established in 2006 in Diamondhead to provide real estate closing services to Gulf Coast residents and businesses. The firm, headed by Michael Casano, also offers commercial litigation, personal injury, workers' comp and wills and estates services. They have recently completed two building projects, which have greatly improved Diamondhead's commercial district and are bringing more business offerings to residents and visitors. Casano Law Firm is dedicated to providing quality service to its many customers.

Coldwell Banker Alfonso Realty of Diamondhead & Bay St. Louis

Owner/Broker: Jackie Miller

Coldwell Banker Alfonso Realty's Diamondhead and Bay St. Louis offices are a key part of CBAR's Coastwide real estate company, which is known as the largest on the Mississippi Coast, with more than 150 agents between the Louisiana and Alabama state lines. Supporting the local community is something the offices and employees take seriously, offering a helping hand to a variety of charitable organizations that include the Rotary Club, Lions Club, Relay for Life and CASA. In addition to the company's financial contributions, CBAR employees can be counted on to volunteer their time and talents to make events and fundraising successful.

Giving Tree Senior Care Options

Owner: Angelique Knoblock

Giving Tree Senior Care Options recently celebrated its fifth anniversary in Diamondhead and is looking at the potential of opening new businesses in Hancock County in the next two years. The experienced staff provides medical case management, health coaching, patient advocating and life care planning services. Giving Tree's strong community involvement includes advocating for the underprivileged and giving back to non-profits such as Feeding the Gulf Coast and CASA.

Gabo's Boutique & Gifts

Owner: Kelly Stephens

Kelly has brought top quality women's clothes, jewelry and gifts to Diamondhead with her charming boutique. The welcoming atmosphere and attentive customer service make each shopping experience at Gabo's memorable. Even the gift wrapping for all occasions comes with the shop's special touch. Gabo's growing reputation is gaining new customers for the Diamondhead boutique.

Tiki Delivery

Owner: Anthony Depreo

Tiki Delivery is a grass roots company that started in Diamondhead and is now known throughout the Coast as it continues to grow and compete with the national chains. Anthony Depreo, CEO of Tiki Delivery, is actively involved in Hancock County and the Diamondhead community. He volunteers time and money to make the community a better place to live, work, play and worship. Tiki Delivery's goal is to keep local dollars in Hancock County.

WAVELAND

Gulf Coast Campers

Owner: Kristine Lyons

Since Kristine Lyons opened her unique camper rental and store, she has been striving for perfection to meet or exceed customer expectations. She and her team work hard to give their best to each customer, from camper rental and onsite setup and take down to the sale of supplies at the new store. She is providing the community and the Gulf Coast a one-of-a-kind service along with superior customer service to campers looking for a hassle-free experience.

Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi
President & CEO: Richmond Vincent

Goodwill of South Mississippi's mission is to help people find gainful employment and eliminate poverty. With more than 300 employees of their own across the coast, the nonprofit Goodwill organization is working hard to see their mission come into fruition. In 2018, Goodwill served 15,248 South Mississippi community members and diverted 1,853,828 pounds of textiles from our landfills. In 2018, Goodwill began their Round Up program, which allows customers to round up to the nearest dollar and more than $59,000 has been donated to local nonprofits.

Pearl River Community College Hancock Center
President: Dr. Adam Breerwood

Since 2005, the Pearl River Community College Hancock Center has been providing students with an opportunity to receive a quality education by preparing them to complete a degree or certificate program for a successful career. The Hancock Center also provides workforce training programs required by local businesses, industries, educational and public service agencies. This year, the Hancock Center will break ground on the Hancock Aviation Aerospace Workforce near Stennis International Airport to meet industry demands while increasing workforce development in Hancock County.

KILN/HANCOCK COUNTY

Farm Bureau Insurance

Agency Manager: Marcus Ladner

The Mississippi Farm Bureau Insurance office in Kiln has been serving Hancock County members since the 1960s offering life, auto, flood and homeowners insurance as well as general liability and farm policies to its members. As always, Farm Bureau's local agents remain invested in the community. Members of the board of directors are advocates for the various agricultural commodities its co-op members represent and they also are actively involved in supporting Hancock County schools. Mississippi Farm Bureau is a major supporter of high school athletics and offers several scholarships to young people interested in furthering their education in agriculture.

Necaise & Company

Owner: Ty Necaise

Ty Necaise established Necaise & Company as a full service accounting and consulting firm in 2006 and now has locations in Kiln and Gulfport. The company has extensive experience in accounting, tax and advisory services including non-profit and governmental accounting and auditing. From the beginning, Ty has worked with 501(c)3 organizations by giving financial advice and helping them stay on budget by offering discounted services and spending extra time establishing standard practices. Ty has also worked with county government organizations including the Hancock Library System to help them operate more efficiently. Ty and his staff continue to meet the highest professional standards and surpass customers' highest expectations.

THE BROKE SPOKE

The Broke Spoke

Owners: Stevie & Mabel Haas

After three decades in business, patrons can still find Stevie and Mabel Haas behind the Broke Spoke bar on weeknights, serving up ice cold beverages and cooking pizza in the back. The 60-year-old building became a national landmark in 1997 when the Kiln's own legendary quarterback Brett Favre led the Packers to Super Bowl XXXI. The local establishment drew hundreds of Wisconsin fans to watch the New England Patriots' defeat. Stevie and Mabel have put their whole lives into their small town business and it has paid dividends to the Kiln community's economy as well as for countless charities and community causes.